

SHORT TERM CITY

Digital platforms
and spatial justice

MARIA LUNA NOBILE

Phd in Architectural and Urban Studies
Unina

Maria Luna Nobile is an Architect and Phd in Architectural and Urban Studies at the Department of Architecture of the University of Naples Federico II, since 2010, where she has been adjunct professor in architectural and urban design since 2012. Currently teaching at Umeå School of Architecture, in Sweden, she has been collaborating since 2010 with the Municipality of Naples and several European municipalities in the framework of the URBACT Programme and since 2017 in the framework of the Grande Progetto “Centro storico di Napoli, valorizzazione del sito UNESCO”. Her research focuses on the design of the contemporary city, with special attention to urban regeneration local policies, interdisciplinary and innovative practices.