

SHORT TERM CITY

Digital platforms
and spatial justice

UGO ROSSI

Associate professor
Unito-Esomas/GSSI

Ugo Rossi is associate professor of Economic and Political Geography at the Gran Sasso Science Institute, L'Aquila. His research deals with the political economy of urban and regional development from a critical perspective. He is editor of Dialogues in Human Geography. His research has appeared in journals of human geography and urban and regional studies. He also published Cities in Global Capitalism (Polity Press, 2017) and (with A. Vanolo) Urban Political Geographies. A Global Perspective (Sage, 2012), and has edited (with T. Enright) the collection The Urban Political. Ambivalent Spaces of Late Neoliberalism (Palgrave Macmillan, 2018).